

By Doug Badow

<http://spectator.org/archives/2010/12/07/religious-liberty-lost-worldwi>

But the U.S. Commission on International Religious Freedom warns that “a second and equally egregious threat to religious freedom” is the failure “to punish religiously motivated violence perpetrated by private actors.” In this case public officials become accomplices to often brutal private violations of religious liberty.